Reissue Applications

1. The reissue oath/declaration filed with this application is defective because it fails to contain the statement required under 37 CFR 1.175(a)(1) as to applicant's belief that the original patent is wholly or partly inoperative or invalid. See 37 CFR 1.175(a)(1) and see MPEP § 1414.
2. The reissue oath/declaration filed with this application is defective because it fails to identify at least one error which is relied upon to support the reissue application. It should be noted that when identifying the error, specific changes or amendments to the claims must be identified and when new claims are presented, their differences from the original claims must be pointed out. See 37 CFR 1.175(a)(1) and MPEP § 1414.
3. The reissue oath/declaration filed with this application is defective because it fails to contain a statement that all errors which are being corrected in the reissue application up to the time of filing of the oath/declaration arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the applicant. See 37 CFR 1.175 and MPEP § 1414.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-13 are allowed.
5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for indicating allowable subject matter. The prior art such as Hyde (US 3,556,747) teaches a blend of powder to be used in a spray coating process to form a wear resistant coating for protecting a surface such as a piston ring. The powder blend comprises a mixture of nickel chromium alloy, chromium carbide and molybdenum in amounts that overlap the ranges claimed by Applicant. The prior art further teaches ranges for the materials which would allow for a chromium content from the nickel-chromium alloy of up to 5.34375 wt% in the blend; however, it does not teach or suggest that the chromium content in the nickel-chromium alloy is at least 7.2 wt% of the blend and is found to be patentably distinct over the prior art.
